Graves mark end of South Bay election

SOUTH BAY — Three "graves" marked and mocked the losers in the two groups of Tuesday's city election when voters returned Ray Sullivan to the city commission and boosted political newcomer Sammy Rogers into office over two opponents without the bother of a runoff.

The "monuments" were made of mounds of sand and signs made on brown wrapping paper held in place by stakes. They were placed in the triangle park at the intersection of US27 and SR80 and handprinted "epitaphs" marked the political remains of Thomas Adams, Doris Davis and Howell Goodbread.

They were erected sometime between the time the election results were announced at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Adams was the loser in a two-candidate race for the Group One seat occupied by Sullivan. Sullivan defeated him, 283-192.

Adams had sought office on two previous occasions, losing both times to Commissioner Don Tanner, the first time by only three votes.

When the results were announced Tuesday night, Adams said he was moving to Belle Glade.

where he may seek political office. He also said he may seek an office on the county or state level. Adams said when he qualified that he would run for office until he was elected, if it took ten years.

Sullivan's victory marked the beginning of his fourth term as city commissioner. He said his major goal is to clean up the city by enforcing anti-littering laws, particularly along US27, SR80 and city streets. It was at his request that anti-littering street signs have been ordered.

Sullivan said he was glad he'd been re-elected so he could continue his efforts to clean up the city.

In the Group Two race, Sammy Rogers, son of Billy Rogers, polled 235 votes to win his seat without a runoff. Mrs. Davis, who had run one time before, against incumbent Mayor-Commissioner Billy Wells and lost by a narrow margin in a runoff, received 127 votes while former Commissioner Howell Goodbread garnered 94 votes.

"I thought I could win," Rogers said, "and I had hoped I could win without a runoff but I was absolutely amazed when I did it."

Connally barbeque is Saturday

See endorsements on P2

SOUTH BAY—Former Texas Governor John Connally will be the first, and apparently the only, candidate in the Tuesday presidential preference primary, to visit the Glades area when he'll be a guest Saturday at a $250 per couple barbeque at Shelton Ranch.

Ranch manager Gene Jones said the Republican candidate will be the guest of the Florida Agricultural Committee for Connally at the ranch, located on US27 17 miles south of here.

"I strongly feel that Governor Connally is the only candidate in either party who has the background in the agricultural area," Jones said, "as a rancher and a farmer. He knows about the problems we have today, and about the problems we will be facing in the coming years."

Jones noted that Connally is the only candidate who has refused to accept federal matching funds from taxpayers to finance his campaign.

"He has decided to depend on the support of concerned, private citizens," Jones said. "The new federal election law has limited contributions to $1,000 per person and has disallowed contributions from corporations."

Jones said the barbeque is scheduled for noon at the Shelton office buildings, the old Big B Ranch office just north of Talisman Sugar Mill. Shelton Ranch is owned by Robert Shelton, with headquarters in Kerrville, Tex. and holdings in Premont, Tex. and Gallatin Gateway, Mont.

Connally is one of ten Republican and four Democratic candidates for president for which voters may indicate their preference Tuesday. There are also two state amendments and two local proposals on the ballot.

The first amendment to the state constitution would be to increase homestead exemption from $5,000 to $25,000 for school taxes. The state legislature has already lowered the cap for school taxes from eight to 6.75 mills, or by $1.25 for

Spring Fever Review practice underway

PAHOKEE—Tap dancers, singers, a guitarist, a storyteller—all are among the star performers who have gone into rehearsal for the Spring Fever Review which will mark the grand opening of the Prince Theatre on April 11.

Some 15 performing acts will be featured, according to Dr. Harris Blumberg, one of four production managers who have been conducting auditions of Glades area talent.

Both amateur and professional entertainers will take part in the variety show to be held Friday, April 11, and Saturday, April 12. Both performances begin at 8 p.m.

Rehearsals will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Blumberg said. Coordinating the production are Bill Babb, David Van Souest, and Dr. Philip Proviziale.

Tickets are priced at $5 and are being sold at many Glades area business places as well as by individuals. Among those to contact for tickets are Julia Wilkinson, Ann Johnson, Buttons Hatton, Sandra McIntosh, Jill Pitts, and Gene Cross.

Meanwhile, the Prince Theatre Committee is moving ahead with plans for ongoing events. Members will meet next week with Ann Millonig, executive director of the Palm Beach Council of Performing Arts, who will explain procedures for booking touring companies and for applying for state grants which might be available to the theatre.

A committee of interested Lake area residents is being formed to draw up bylaws and rules and regulations for the theatre's operation. Anyone willing to serve on the committee is asked to contact Doris Wetherington at 924-5604.

Others with skills in theatre operation area also needed and are urged to volunteer their help.

Quaker gives $10,000

BELLE GLADE—The Quaker Oats Foundation more than doubled the funds raised by the Glades Area Associated for Retarded Citizens (GAARC) building fund drive Tuesday with a pledge of $10,000 towards the purchase of the old St. Peters Lutheran Church and School property on West Canal Street North.

Sandra Chamblee, president of the GAARC board of directors, and Tricia Blash, GAARC executive Director, were on hand to accept Quaker's pledge, the largest single contribution so far in the building fund drive, when it was presented by Wayne Small, manager of the Quaker Oats farfural plant here, and Broman Compton, administrative manager.

"We hope our pledge is helpful in this very worthy effort to raise funds for one of our finest community programs," Small said in a prepared statement.

Ms. Blash said there is another fund-raiser being prepared for Friday and Saturday, when Jody's Restaurant in South Bay will sell barbeque rib dinners for $5 per plate between 11 a.m. and 11 p.m.

Ms. Blash said the full price of each dinner, with the exception of the cost of the meat, will be donated to the building fund by Jo's owner, Don Dasselie.

She said anyone who wants to make five or more orders Friday, between 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., can call the GAARC office at 996-4335 Friday morning or earlier and the dinners will be delivered.

The dinners will consist of barbequed ribs, beans, cole slaw, bread and coffee or tea.

Still another fund-raiser will come Saturday, Mar. 15 in the form of the annual golf tournament sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of the Glades for the benefit of the GAARC at the Belle Glade municipal Golf Course.

Ms. Blash said the golf tournament will get underway at 1 p.m. with a shotgun start and, once again, there will be two cars up for grabs, should anyone score a hole-in-one on either one of two particular holes.

Entry fees for the golf tournament is $30, including an awards ceremony that afternoon, and reservations may be made by calling golf pro John Wright at 996-6605 at the pro shop. Entrants should know their handicaps when they call. They can either sign up as a complete foursome or be assigned to a foursome by Wright.

BACKTALK

With the Florida presidential primaries coming up next week BACKTALK took to the street with the question, "Will you tell us who you would like to have as the next U.S. president?"

No Photo
Ruth Johnson, Belle Glade — I really couldn't say. I imagine I would vote for Carter again.

No Photo
Frank Wright, Belle Glade — I have got no idea. Not yet. I'm still listening.

Richard Lalone, Belle Glade — I have no preference of the gentlemen who are running now. Only one I would be inclined to vote for is Gerald Ford if he ran.

Garry L. Williams, Belle Glade — Hard to say, really. I'm just waiting to see. It's a big competition. I think it will be Kennedy or Carter.

Mrs. Tommy Melton, Belle Glade — I have no idea. I don't know who's running. I like Reagan. I lived in California while he was governor.

We endorse e...

Glades area voters, along with voters from throughout the state, will be going to the polls next Tuesday to express their preference for one of four Democratic candidates or one of ten Republican candidates for President of the United States as well as their preferences for or against four questions of state or local interest.

We at the Herald-Observer try to live up to our slogan of "Voice of the Glades" but we also believe in the philosophy that a newspaper should be a leader. Therefore, we offer our endorsements for the consideration of you, the reader, in the following choices.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY

DEMOCRATIC PARTY

This one's easy, once one gets past an unknown Richard B. Kay. There really is no choice being offered at this point by the Democrats. Even if the voter isn't a Jimmy Carter fan, the alternatives are turns downhill.

We're not saying Jimmy Carter's track record has been all that impressive but he's all we have on the Democratic ticket at this time.

REPUBLICAN PARTY

There are more Republicans running for the office now occupied by Carter but the choice is harder because more of the Republican candidates are more qualified.

Considering his experience as former ambassador and former head of the Central Intelligence Agency, as well as in several other governmental positions in Washington, one can easily understand Bush's campaign slogan that he would be one president we wouldn't have to train.

His experience, all the way from being a Navy flier in the World War II Pacific through the CIA, along with his stated platform planks, amount to reason enough to endorse him for the GOP candidate.

Without referring to specifics, George Bush comes across well, whether in his paid commercials and advertisements or in an adversary position such as one of the many panel discussion shows in which he's participated.

At least at this time, he looks like an attractive candidate and is worth the voters' approval.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS NUMBER ONE, ARTICLE VII, SECTION 6

This is the proposed amendment which would increase the amount of homestead exemption on school taxes from $5,000 to $25,000 in ad valorem taxes.

On the face of it, this is one amendment one would think would pass with no strain. Why then, in a recent survey, did only 44.2 per cent of Floridians asked say they support the amendment while 39.2 per cent said they were opposed to it?

The answer may be that Floridians simply aren't as gullible as the backers of this amendment would believe.

First of all, if the poor, rural homesteader living on a marginal farm income, who the homestead exemption was originally intended to protect, needs $25,000 exemption, he needs it across the board, not just for the amount of ad valorem taxes he pays toward his local schools.

That marginal-income gentleman isn't likely to be living in a $25,000 home nowadays, even considering the rate of inflation and rising property values, and if he were going to lose his home because he couldn't pay the taxes, it wouldn't be because of the small portion which goes toward local schools.

Secondly, the general trend of shifting the responsibility for funding public schools toward Tallahassee hasn't resulted in a corresponding trend toward quality in education at the county level and there's no reason to believe this latest move would result in such a trend.

The story from the proponents of the $25,000 homestead exemption is that there would be no loss of funds for education but they can tell that one to the Marines.

The state's track record simply doesn't go along with such a statement. If, in the face of previous millage cap rollbacks for local school boards, new schools were under construction to avoid double sessions in some schools on the coast, improvements were underway in some of the more deteriorated schools in the Glades and other parts of the county and if teachers hadn't been held to such a small pay increase last year, that kind of claim may have been believable.

But that's not the case. Improvements are needed. Teachers do need, badly need, pay increases. Double sessions are the rule rather than the exception in some parts of the county and this county isn't unique.

It's tough to make a conscious decision to keep on paying taxes on $20,000 worth of property when you may not have to but that's better than relinquishing just that much more control to the state when the county is closer to the problem.

Vote No on Number One.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO

"Proposing an amendment to the State Constitution to modify the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court." That's the entire question.

If ever an amendment was offered to the voters with a silent cry of, "Reject me! Reject me!" this is the one.

Chief Justice Arthur England and the Florida Bar endorse this amendment on the grounds it provides badly needed relief for the court by cutting the number of cases to be acted upon each year by the state's highest court.

That may be a laudable goal, particularly if the Supreme Court is as overloaded as Chief Justice England says it is but there are strong reasons to vote against the amendment besides the argument of the Palm Beach County Bar Association that it would deny the right of appeal to citizens who need it and besides the fact the amendment has had so little play even some judges aren't familiar enough with it to support it.

What the amendment does, basically, is to give district appeals judges the prerogative of determining which of the cases they have ruled on the Supreme Court should consider for review. That's bad because the judges are being asked to judge their own actions.

The problem seems to be now that the Supreme Court see Endorsements P3

"If she was a little bigger," I told Ailsa Monday morning of a sweet young thing in the bosses office, "I'd mug her for her jacket." "Cause Lord, she looked warm and, Lord, I was cold.

That was before I realized that if that little lady were any bigger than she was, I could wind up being the muggee instead of the mugger, dying a swift and justifiable death to close out a short life of sordid crime. It was also before I saw her leave the bosses office and the guy she was with. He didn't walk out the door. He just sorta rippled along.

Deciding it was better to take a chance on freezing to death (after all, we might all thaw out come July) to a swift and bloody demise at the hand of some guy who has muscles in places I don't have places, I shivered my way back to the Cracker Barrel.

The Cracker Barrel is the local name for my office. Comes with the turf, or tundra Monday morning. I guess.

Don't get me wrong, now. I'm about as warm natured as they come. I've even got a cousin who observed one fine day after a spell in a 150 degree tank at the ship yard that, "Dean doesn't sweat. He rains."

But Monday was something else again. No heat in the office and I know Doc Allen out at the Experiment Station had to've been prevaricating when I called him and he said the low for the morning was 31 degrees.

Later in the morning, I took my life in my hands and decided to look at the "heater". Notice the quote marks. In this case they denote sarcasm. It would've been funny if it weren't so serious. There weren't any icicles but there was damned sure frost on the heating strips. No good, no good, no good, no good, hugging each other. They weren't friendly, they just wanted to survive and figured mutual warmth was the way.

Also no wonder why there was sneezing from the hot air duct. Probably just rain that had gotten up there during last summer when it was still liquid. I got news for those people up in Jacksonville and Tallahassee who were having snowball fights. I had drifts over the top of the typewriter.

The next obvious move, of course, was to call the repairman and he said, sure, he'd be right along...sometime in August. I thought that was kinda nice because that's probably about the time the air conditioner will decide to revolt.

Thoughts of Jack London's To Build A Fire started to roll behind my eyes and I felt this might be a strategic time to find a dog whose belly I could sit open and plunge my hands inside to prevent frostbite.

All the dogs had apparently headed south for the winter though, so it was a case of sitting around finding what they really mean when people talk about a Bluese.

There were some winter games the Olympic committee might consider installing though. They included such activities as trying to find out whose test, could chatter the fastest, watching the cryogenically frozen typewriter keys shatter when they hit the paper and watching two flies making like a hockey team on the iced over coffee in my cup.

Never did figure out what they were using for a puck.

By Monday afternoon, I was missing so many keys while I was typing, I realized I might have to take that course offered by PBJC in calligraphy. The course was come in last week and I hadn't paid much attention because if someone can't read my handwriting, and I sometimes can't, they can usually make out my typing.

Well, with the typing rapidly deteriorating because of frostbitten fingers and shattered keys, something had to give. Besides, if the style is good enough for invitations, scrolls, greeting cards and diplomas, I figure it's good enough for the Herald-Observer.

Now, if I can just figure out how to calligraph fast enough...

justices don't have the right to decide which cases they will hear.

The U.S. Supreme Court, on the other hand, does make its own decisions, and that's the obvious answer for the state court. Anybody should be able to appeal to the court but if the court is overloaded, they should be the ones to decide which cases they'll hear. That's the obvious answer.

Note on the amendment

PALM BEACH JUNIOR COLLEGE REFERENDUM

This proposal is to accept a half mill tax for funding repairs, renovation, remodeling and new equipment and should be the easiest decision to make on the Tuesday ballot.

PBJC has been providing service to the community for 47 years, including the training of police officers, firefighters, paramedics and dental technicians for the area.

The school is a community college in the truest sense of the word. Locally, PBJC-Glades provides workshops and classes for subjects ranging from standard academics to preparation of income tax returns; from photography to a Japanese flower arranging; from courses needed by school teachers to retain their certification to the currently ongoing cultural arts series.

In cooperation with the three cities in the Glades, the college is well on its way to building a 500 seat auditorium to house plays, concerts, speakers and anything else an auditorium could be used for... not only by the college students enrolled on a full-time basis but for everybody in the Glades.

Now, for the first time since its founding, Palm Beach Junior College is asking for the support of the taxpayers in the county. There are some $15 million in unmet needs at the school, needs that are largely catchup maintenance and repairs on buildings up to 25 years in age.

The bond issue will only meet half those needs, providing an estimated $8 million but that's all the state legislature would permit and to sweeten the pot, this is one tax that will be light and finite.

The tax bite is for only half a mill, 50 cents in taxes for every $1,000 worth of assessed property and it can only be assessed for two years. Considering the fact the legislature has already said property owners will be paying $1.25 per $1,000 less in school taxes, they could even figure they're "saving" 75 cents for the next two years and it'll be $1.25 two years from now.

Note For the Proposal.

BOND ELECTION

This proposal is to pass a $187.5 million bond issue to undertake the construction of 40 road construction projects, a proposal generating considerable more criticism than the PBJC proposal.

Critics point out the fact, true enough, that the State Department of Transportation should have long ago done the work scheduled under the bond issue. That's a point hard to argue because it's true at least as far as SR80 is concerned.

They say the Glades is getting cheated because only three miles of Airport Road and a short section of the relocated SR80 are to be included in the Glades area. That's true also but what the critics don't usually say is that the bond issue also proposes to four-lane SR80 between 20 Mile Bend and Military Trail and that will be a direct benefit to the Glades residents. It would be futile to four-lane the highway to 20 Mile Bend, then revert to a two-lane funnel to Military Trail.

There has even been a change made that the county has already begun construction of a "secret" road west of 20 Mile Bend, using county trucks painted to look like DOT trucks. That's ridiculous on the face of it.

Nobody wants to vote themselves more taxes and we're no exceptions.

The simple truth is, however, this is the only way any of these projects, including the four-laning of SR80, is going to get done any time in this century.

State revenues for road construction are being eaten alive by inflation, like everything else. But the road construction monies raised by gasoline taxes are also feeling another pinch. Because of the higher price of gasoline, people are driving cars with better gas mileage and they're driving fewer actual miles.

To quote Marvin Unwin, chairman of the Canal Hazards Safety Committee: "If you want to see any of these roads built, vote for the bond. If you're satisfied without them, vote against it."

Considering the number of times Glades residents are put into the position of facing a head-on collision because somebody ahead of them is trying to pass a car without sufficient room, and there's no place to go without rolling the car on a too-steep shoulder or going into a deep canal, we'll bite the bullet and vote for this bond.

Vote For the Bond.

Man killed on US98

CANAL POINT — A Pahokee man in the midst of moving his family to the West Palm Beach area was killed Tuesday morning when his car caromed off a four-wheel drive wagon and flipped upside down in a roadside ditch, pinning him beneath the wreckage.

Dead at the scene, seven miles east of here on US98 was Lawrence Joseph Hanbury, 27, of 2997 Bacon Point Road, Pahokee. Alexander L. Fanjul, 30, of 107 Wells Rd. in Palm Beach, was driving the other vehicle. He was uninjured.

Florida Highway Patrol troopers William Burroughs and Ron Cucchiara reported Hanbury was traveling east when the accident took place. They said he had been observed driving erratically and they were told by two witnesses at the scene that they had been run off the road when Hanbury passed them.

The troopers said Hanbury had driven into the westbound lane when he slammed into the left front of Fanjul's vehicle. Fanjul had maneuvered his car as close to the guard rail as possible when the impact came.

Besides members of the Pahokee Ambulance Service, Belle Glade Fire Department Rescue One was called to the scene to attempt to extract Hanbury's body from the wreckage with a Hurst tool. The firefighters were unsuccessful and it wasn't until a wrecker arrived that the car was lifted and the body freed.

No charges were filed.

In Palm Beach County, the most controversial issue is a referendum under which voters would assess landowners as much as two mills to float a $187.5 million road bond issue.

The bond issue would finance road construction in 40 different projects around the county, including three sections of SR80 between a point just west of 20 Mile Bend and Military Trail, four-laning the highway from the eastern point to where it would join the four-lane relocated SR80 now under construction between Hooker Highway and US98.

Three miles of Airport Road would also be reconstructed. David Goodlett, aide to County Commissioner Bill Bailey, said he has been making an average of two speaking engagements per day for the past two weeks to acquaint Glades area citizens about the road bond.

Goodlett spoke this week to the Belle Glade Rotary and Lions Club. In a show of hands, a vast majority of the Rotarians indicated they would vote for the issue while three indicated they were opposed to it.

One of those opposed was Clarence Kidder, who said he felt it wasn't in the best interests of the Glades area, not only to help pay for the construction of roads in the coastal area, but to four-lane SR80 between here and the coast, saying it would only make it easier for local residents to reach stores on the coast and that it would encourage more people to move into the Glades.

Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester notified voters this week they would reduce their voting time at the polls Tuesday if they bring their voter registration cards with them. She said, however, that all registered voters will be permitted to vote, even if they forget to bring identification.

Mrs. Winchester also warned voters who have moved since the last election that they can only vote in the precinct to which they have moved. She said if those persons are unsure of the number of the new precinct, they should call 311-337-2650 for further information.

He said he enjoyed the race and was pleased with the way his opponents had handled themselves in the election. "When I was running," he said, "I didn't make any specific promises. I only promised I would do the best job I can and I intend to do that."

"I realize the problems of South Bay as well as anybody," he said, adding he hoped he and the other commissioners could work toward relieving those problems.

A total of 518, or 56 per cent of the 919 registered voters, turned out Tuesday, including 13 absentee ballots.

The city commission held its regular meeting immediately following the election and the first action, following the reading of the minutes, was to swear in the two victors as Mayor Billy Wells stepped down and relinquished his seat.

Sullivan, as vice-mayor, chaired the remainder of the meeting, which consisted primarily of the adoption of five resolutions, including agreements on the city's participation in a community activity center and a juvenile center.

City Attorney James Gann also briefed the city on several lawsuits which have either been filed or he expects to be filed in the near future.

Two of the suits have been filed because of the city's action in removing junk cars from private property in a cleanup campaign. Another suit may be filed by former City Attorney Allan Everard for legal services he said he performed in two bond issues. Gann said he has taken the stance the city owes Everard for services but not the full amount because neither bond issue was validated.

Another suit has been filed by Days Inn over the application of the city's new ready-to-serve water fee. Gann said the suit claims the $7.50-per-month fee has been improperly applied and is unconstitutional. He received permission to obtain co-counsel.

In other action, the commission tabled any action to hold an organizational meeting until the next meeting on Mar. 18.

Man killed on US98

CANAL POINT — A Pahokee man in the midst of moving his family to the West Palm Beach area was killed Tuesday morning when he car careened off a four-wheel drive wagon and flipped upside down in a roadside ditch, pinning him beneath the wreckage.

Dead at the scene, seven miles east of here on US98 was Lawrence Joseph Hanbury, 27, of 2997 Bacom Point Road, Pahokee. Alexander L. Fajul, 30, of 107 Wells Rd. in Palm Beach, was driving the other vehicle. He was uninjured.

Florida Highway Patrol troopers William Burroughs and Ron Cucchiara reported Hanbury was traveling east when the accident took place. They said he had been observed driving erratically and they were told by two witnesses at the scene that they had been run off the road when Hanbury passed them.

The troopers said Hanbury had driven into the westbound lane when he slammed into the left front of Fajul's vehicle. Fajul had maneuvered his car as close to the guard rail as possible when the impact came.

Besides members of the Pahokee Ambulance Service, Belle Glade Fire Department Rescue One was called to the scene to attempt to extract Hanbury's body from the wreckage with a Hurst tool. The firefighters were unsuccessful and it wasn't until a wrecker arrived that the car was lifted and the body freed.

No charges were filed.

Alpha Delta Nu inducts five

BELLE GLADE—Five Palm Beach Junior College students at Glades campus were inducted into Phi Theta Kappa, national honor society, at ceremonies held recently by Alpha Delta Nu chapter.

The new members are Phillip White and Robert Decampus of Belle Glade, Marie Duboy of Pahokee, and Sandy Clark and Michelle Otto, both of Clewiston.

To be eligible for membership, a student carrying less than 12 credit hours must earn a 3.5 grade average, and those taking 12 or more hours, a 3.2 average.

Chapter members are conducting an aluminum can drive and would appreciate all contributions.

PBJC dental clinic lists new phone

The Dental Hygiene Clinic at Palm Beach Junior College has a new telephone number—439-8097.

For years, members of the community have come to the PBJC Dental Hygiene Clinic to have their teeth cleaned, for X-Rays and for fluoride treatments, which are performed by Dental Hygiene students at PBJC.

Appointments are now available for these services, MacPherson said.

Census to be discussed at CS meeting

The Census problems and general information will be discussed at the upcoming Community Services meeting at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Mar. 12, at the Glades Office Bldg.

Bernadette M. Green, Community Services Specialist, U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census, will conduct the forum. She is based in Miami.

Since this is a current problem and many opinions have been expressed in the media as to the pros and cons of the new procedure, the meeting should be of interest to all agency persons and citizens alike.

Everyone is invited to participate in these meetings, a service coordinated by Palm Beach County Social Services, telephone 996-1630, held monthly from September through May.

Put our Watt-Wise package in your new home. It'll save you more than it costs.

A new Watt-Wise Living™ home can save you money on electricity. Because it's built according to FPL's energy saving standards. Sure, a Watt-Wise home costs a little more in the beginning. But you'll get a payoff in extra savings on your electric bills for years to come from the very first month.

FPL's money-saving Watt-Wise homes have features like extra ceiling and wall insulation, solar and heat-recovery units for water heating, a higher efficiency air conditioner or heat pump, power savers like fluorescent lighting and a microwave oven, and thermally efficient windows and doors, (with glass areas planned to minimize heat build-up).

So before you buy or construct a new home, ask your builder about FPL's Watt-Wise Living Program. Or, stop by your local FPL office and pick up a free information brochure.

The Watt-Wise Living home. It costs a little more now, but in the long run it costs a whole lot less.

Reviews

If you liked Airport 75, 76, 77, etc. etc. . . You'll like Mayday by Thomas H. Block.

A supersonic passenger flight is on its way from San Francisco to Tokyo and is accidentally hit by a missile. The plane has lost air pressure and has a gaping hole in it and is being flown only by automatic pilot. All crew and passengers are dead, deranged or comatose except for five people. It could crash with no survivors or even worse, for some people the flight could land safely.

A book that will be interesting to young adults and adults alike is Secrets of the Shopping Mall by Richard Field.

Teresa and Barrie run away to a shopping mall. By day they mix with the crowds and by night live in the stores. This situation also brings danger as they come across more store people who take on the identities of their departments. All these people come under the watchful eye of Barbie and her henchman, Ken.

CARD OF THANKS

Francis Cross, Jr. and family wish to thank the emergency room staff of Everglades Memorial Hospital for its kind attention following the truck accident. We are grateful to Brother Bob Atkins and the concerned friends and relatives for their prayers, flowers, cards, telephone calls, and loving assistance.

We thank God for all.

$3<sup>88</sup>

Palm Beach Junior College is offering a class in interior designing that I understand is getting a go-i response. I even thought fleetingly of taking the four-week course myself.

But when good sense prevailed, I realized that my interior designing efforts so far were beyond help.

Consider someone who thinks good taste is using white masking tape to cover rips in a black couch the ultimate in designer couture.

Or someone who thinks the only proper way to repair holes in the wall is to stick green silly putty firmly in the space. Some other wise guy around here said he solicits mud doobers to do the job. Matches the wall color perfectly. The cost is probably in line with what he's able to pay too.

My idea of the perfect relaxed family atmosphere consists of paisley wallpaper and striped chairs. Throw in a few multi-colored hand-crocheted dollies and you have a basic idea of what my family room looks like. No wonder the kids fight like cats and dogs

FROM THE GRAPEVINE

By BRENDA BUNTING

When I send them in there to watch for certain rooms, I have the irritating habit of putting a scramble of unrelated items into whatever room I happen to have a hole to fill at the time. I just know if I could ever outgrow the habit of going to Goodwill and picking up a French Provincial this and an Early American that, that somehow I would be ahead of the game, but I can never quite resist a bargain even if it really isn't. I understand there is a name for people who go berserk at the very mention of the words "For Sale." I must have the disease because the mere mention of the words send me into a frenzy.

No matter that I no more need the item mentioned than the man in the moon. It's just the thought of being able to say, "Oh, yes, I got them on sale at Woolworth's for $1.99." (Formerly $1.39).

Doesn't that just turn your friends green with envy? Wonder why they didn't rush right down to purchase the remaining truckload? Do they know something I don't?

All joking aside, I understand that the response for the interior designing class has been so good that they're going to be starting a night class also. The cost of the course is only $6.

Night class offered in interior design

BELLE GLADE-An evening session is scheduled to begin March 13 of the daytime interior decorating class being taught at Palm Beach Junior College Glades campus.

Latham, an associate of Glades Mercantile Co., is a graduate of the American Furniture Institute and the Design Institute of America.

To register for the course, call 996-3055. There is a $6 registration fee.

Raiders wind up season

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Central boys varsity basketball team wound up a 13-15 year with a 50-52 win over Atlantic and a narrow 49-44 loss to North Shore in district tournament play.

Considering the circumstances, coach Jay Seider said, the team finished well. He said the Raiders lost six games before they could get a full team together, after the football team had played halfway through December in post-season games.

"We played one of the toughest schedules in the area," Seider said, noting that of the first seven games, only two opponents were Class AAA while the other seven were Class AAAA, including the defending Class AAAA state champion, Martin County.

"Overall," he said, "I'm pretty pleased with the season. I'm looking for better things next year because we've got a few kids coming back. This year, we only had one returning letterman. The junior varsity is looking pretty good too. They had something like a 17-4 season so we have some good kids coming up from there."

"We won't have that much height next year," Seider said, "but they are quick and they have speed."

In Friday night's win over Atlantic, Seider said all the Raider players did a good job. He said he played everybody on the team and they all scored.

"We moved the ball around pretty well defensively and offensively," he said, "and we had a pretty good fourth quarter. Otherwise, it was a pretty close ball game. We had a five point lead going into the final period but we were able to blow it out."

Seider said the difference in the fourth quarter was when Charles Haines, a player just up from the junior varsity team, came in and scored four points and made three assists, while Eugene Wells came in and scored eight points, giving the Raiders a lift.

Torrence Gardner was the leading scorer for the Raiders, making 14 points, two rebounds and one assist. He was followed by Sam Anderson with 13 points and 12 rebounds, Charles Sears with ten points and five rebounds, Eugene Wells with 11 points and three rebounds, making four players who scored in double figures.

Other points were scored by Ernest Bussie with eight points and one rebound, Charles Haines with five points, one rebound and three assists, Jessie Hester with three points, two rebounds and three assists, Morris Dukes with two and one, Tommy Duhart with two, Sam Smith with one and two and Greg Hall with one point.

In the loss to North Shore, Seider said Mustang ace Derek Harper scored 27 points but the Glades Central players were able to contain the rest of the North Shore team.

"You're not going to stop someone like Harper," Seider said. "He's going to get his points, so we concentrated on stopping the rest of the team and we did a pretty good job of that."

Seider's strategy almost worked, even though Harper did score as much as the balance of the Mustangs combined. Except for a last-second bucket, the Raiders were holding the Mustangs to a three point lead.

"We were in the game most of the way," Seider said. "We missed a couple of opportunities; otherwise we would have gone ahead. We were able to out-rebound them, 36-24."

Hester was the only Raider to score in double figures, earning ten points, seven rebounds and one assist. He was followed by Sam

Anderson with nine points and seven rebounds, Sam Smith with nine points, six rebounds and one assist, Eugene Wells with six points and four assists, Charles Sears with four points and seven rebounds, Torrence Gardner with four points, two rebounds and one assist and Ernest Bussie with two points, one rebound and two assists.

Terriers win CDS district meet

BELLE GLADE—The Benjamin School eliminated both Christian Day School and Glades Day School last week in the district Class A basketball tournament, hosted in the Crusader gym.

Christian Day's Crusaders won their first game last Wednesday night against St. Edwards, 50-34 before bowing to Benjamin Thursday in the fifth game of the tourney, 73-55.

Glades Day won its first game also, eliminating Indian River Academy Thursday by a score of 88-37 before going under to Benjamin Friday night in a hotly contested game that was finally ended in overtime when Mark Eissey's two free throws hit nothing but net with four seconds left and the audience going wild in an attempt to break his concentration.

Benjamin's turn came to fall Friday night, however, when Moore Haven coasted by the Bucs in a 62-50 win for the final game and the district championship. Ironically, 62-50 was also the score by which the Terriers beat Palm Beach Prep Friday night and the 12 point margin was the same margin by which Benjamin beat the Terriers for last year's district championship.

Moore Haven had earlier bon-barded Jupiter Christian Wednesday night when the Terriers won the second game of the tournament by the score of 104-41. Moore Haven also defeated Kings Academy Tuesday night to win the regional championship.

In the only other games of the tournament, Palm Beach Prep won its first outing in a 59-43 victory over Palm Vista Christian Thursday night.

Christian Day coach Ken Lassiter said the Crusaders' win over St. Edwards was the result of an excellent defensive game, although the offense started slow, gaining momentum in the second quarter when he installed a press to open up a ten-point halftime lead.

"We had a good defensive effort in the second half," Lassiter said, "and opened up the margin to the final 16 points."

The two high scorers in the St. Edwards game were Alex Hermida and Kent Davis, who each garnered 14 points for the Crusaders. Davis also made 11 rebounds and Hermida made seven.

In single-digit scoring, Jesus Armas made nine points and four rebounds, followed by Bill Taylor with five points, eight rebounds and two blocked shots, Louis Garcia with two points and three rebounds, William Cruz with two points and eight rebounds and Tony Duboy with two points.

Against Benjamin, Lassiter said the Crusaders, "came out shooting terrible in the first quarter and they were shooting well." He said the Buccaneers were leading at the end of the opening period by a 25-7 score.

"We matched them the rest of the way," he said, "but we couldn't shoot of the foul line either and we couldn't catch up."

In his final game for the Crusaders, Bill Taylor scored 16 points, made six rebounds and two blocked shots while Louis Garcia came off the bench in the third quarter to score 11 of a total 13 points and three rebounds. Garcia was a junior varsity freshman earlier in the year and Lassiter said he did well when he dressed out for the tournament.

Other scorers were Alex Hermida with eight points and eight rebounds, Jesus Armas with seven points, six assists, four steals and two blocked shots, Tavi Garcia with four points and one rebound, Tony Duboy with three points, William Cruz with two points and three rebounds and Roly Ramos with two points and one rebound.

Taking it From the Top

By REV. DAVID T. EVANS
Everglades Presbyterian Church

Sunday was a windy, cloudy and cold day. A lot of people turned out to eat fish at the Belle Glade Marina. It was a benefit for the A.R.C. (Association for Retarded Citizens). The A.R.C. is attempting to raise $40,000 to buy the St. Peter Lutheran Church property to headquarter their worthwhile project.

Raising $40,000 is a hard job. Ask Bobbie and Bronson Cumpston, Tom and Lee Shaw, Tricia Blash, Charla Sizemore, J.B. Adams, Sandra Chamblee, and Sue Kidder. But they are doing it. So far there have been no big gifts for the project, so it is even harder.

The project is a practical one. The church property is ideally suited and located for the A.R.C. program. In fact, they are already using part of it now for their program (renting the educational building).

This is a good project because many organizations have been working to raise funds through a fish fry, pancake breakfast, fashion show, etc. The Kiwanis, the Civilians, Bassmasters, Beta Sigma Phi, Rotarians, Belle Glade Garden Club, The Elite Community Club, The Eldorado Club, Xi Zeta and Mu Sorority have participated in the fund raising events.

The project is an efficient one. It will bring the entire program of community A.R.C. activities together. The workers and staff will be housed together and will not have to be on the run between locations.

The A.R.C. program is an effective one. The work is helping many people with mental handicaps to function better in society. It also makes life more enjoyable for those in a retarded condition.

The program is a deserving one because it really pays off. These people can live at home rather than having to be institutionalized. Facilities such as the church property will enable activities to be carried out comparable to those at an institution, at much less expense.

To me, this cooperative program makes good sense using our money and property effectively and efficiently. Take time to call Tricia Blash at 996-4335 (A.R.C. office) if you would like to participate in this worthwhile community program. Your contribution can help Belle Glade take care of its own needy rather than having to send members of our larger family to an institution away from home.

Rev. Mc Gahey is revivalist

Joe Ed McGahey will be preaching in evangelistic services at the United Methodist Church in Moore Haven, beginning Sunday morning 10:45 March 16, with evening services at 7 p.m., continuing through Wednesday, March 19th. The Rev. McGahey serves as pastor of Community United Church in Belle Glade.

Weeklong revival begins Sunday

LAKE HARBOR-A weeklong revival featuring the Rev. Bernstein and Friend Bernie with music by Hoyt Addison and his converted saxophone opens Sunday night at the Community United Methodist Church.

Revival meetings will be held at 7:30 p.m. March 9 through 16 and the public is invited to attend. Also, special prayer and Bible study sessions are being held Thursday nights during Lent at the church.

Baptists will hear update on home

Baptist leaders in the Glades area will hear an update report on activities at the Florida Baptist Children's Home at a 6:30 p.m. dinner meeting March 21 at the First Baptist Church of Clewiston. Executive Director Walter Delamarter, James Soles, area administrator of the Miami Children's Home Campus, and Paul Glore, assistant to Delamarter, will be the featured speakers - and will conduct a question and answer session.

An audio-visual presentation will be shown depicting the campuses in Tallahassee, Lakeland and Miami.

Advance information on the annual Mother's Day offering that involves hundreds of Florida Baptist churches will also be given. A goal of $190,000 has been set for 1980. The 1979 project produced $169,763 in contributions.

Reservations must be made in advance for the dinner and may be made by contacting the Clewiston church.

The Rev. Bob Lynch, pastor of the Clewiston First Baptist Church, is assisting the state staff in planning the area conference, one of three being held in South Florida.

Area church news

Is it odd to find these twenty-four words here in your newspaper? But here they are... centuries old, out of the enraptured mind of a man who looked at a mountain, at the rugged earth and the vast sky above, at time, at eternity.

Do his words belong among the headlines and datelines, the terse reports of earth-shaking events? Should they compete for our attention with all the goods and services we'd like to buy?

Well this man made a remarkable discovery: he did not simply arrive at the fact of Divine creation. Nor did he merely proclaim the existence and endless reign of God. He spoke to God! He knew Him!

Have our headlines yet reported a greater discovery?

Psalm 90:2

Before the mountains were brought forth
Or ever Thou hadst formed
The earth and the world,
Even from everlasting to everlasting,
Thou art God!

Ford puts its money where he mileage is.

MAKE YOUR BEST DEAL ON ONE OF OUR POPULAR HIGH MILEAGE 1980'S AND FORD WILL SEND YOU A CHECK FOR UP TO $500.

Receive a check for $500 when you buy a new Thunderbird. Beautifully redesigned for 1980. And powered by a new, efficient 4.2 liter engine.

Receive a check for $300 when you buy a new 1980 Fairmont. Room for five, high mileage and a practical price have helped make Fairmont one of America's best-selling mid-size cars.

BEST C.A.F.E.

HURRY!

Ford has the best Corporate Average Fuel Economy of any major U.S. car maker. C.A.F.E. is the government's measure of auto companies' progress in gas mileage each year. It is an average using the EPA rating system and projected 1980 total model year car sales mix as submitted to the U.S. government in December, 1979.

Only Ford among the major U.S. companies ranks first on this basis. Remember, C.A.F.E. is an average, so consult EPA ratings for individual car's mileage.

Take delivery between Feb. 11, 1980, and March 22, 1980, and receive a check directly from Ford Motor Company, or apply an equal amount to your down payment. Offer good at Ford Dealers only on new 1979 and 1980 Thunderbirds and Fairmonts, including dealer-owned demonstrators.

OFFER EXPIRES
MARCH 22.

*1980 EPA ratings for comparison. Your mileage may differ depending on speed, distance and weather. Actual highway mileage will probably be lower.
